Airfreight fuel surcharges to rise

Higher Jet Fuel prices have caused airlines to increase the fuel surcharges that they collect on cargo carried by them. The surcharges has remained constant since the beginning of November 2009.

The Fuel Surcharge for traffic moving on Panalpina-controlled flights is to rise to €0,65/$0,65 per kg depending on origin from 25th January.

Other carriers will be introducing increases of similar magnitude at about the same time.
